FINEST PUMPKIN SHOW IN HISTORY OPENS

Ike Decries Bombings of Synagogues

President Also Chides Political Debate over U.S. Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today angrily characterized those responsible for bombings of places of worship as hoodlums of the Al Capone and Babyface Nelson type.

At a news conference the President spoke out vigorously against the dynamiting of Jewish temples in Atlanta, Ga., and Peoria, Ill.

He did so after a reporter told him that some of those responsible apparently have been privately identifying themselves as members of a "Confederate underground."

Addressing himself to that description, Eisenhower said that from babyhood he has been taught to respect the Southern Confederacy of Civil War days.

Then he said that for hoodlums to describe themselves as any part of the Confederacy is a complete insult.

They should be described, he added angrily, as Al Capones and Babyface Nelsons, and that kind of hoodlum.

Eisenhower also dealt with these other matters:

FOREIGN POLICY—He said emphatically that foreign policy ought to be kept out of partisan debate in the current congressional campaign.

Then he said that another man who has borne the responsibility of the presidency—A clear allusion to Harry S. Truman—also has taken the position that foreign policy should be left out of partisan politics.

Eisenhower made his remarks when a newsman asked whether he subscribes to Vice President Nixon's campaign statement, made in reply to Democratic criticism, that "the Acheson foreign policy resulted in war and the Eisenhower-Dulles policy resulted in peace."

Eisenhower said he had not heard that quotation before. Then he added, without any direct comment on the Nixon statement, that he does subscribe to the idea that foreign policy should be kept out of partisan debate.

He said further that the country's long term interests are better served if that sort of thing is not indulged in.

On a related matter dealing with this country's position regarding defense of Quemoy, Eisenhower said he does not decri any intelligent criticism of any particular point. But when it comes to policy, he said, that has been standing on its own feet for a long time.

POLITICS—Eisenhower backed away from an Oct. 6 statement by Republican leaders saying the clear alternative to election of a Republican-controlled Congress is nationalization and socialization of American industry under the Democrats.

Asked whether he subscribed to that statement, Eisenhower replied he had read the full statement before it was made public and does not remember that exact language.

The President said his recollection is that the statement said the country could be led to the left and such a course could lead eventually to socialism.

Eisenhower added crisply that in any event the statement about nationalization and socialization of industry was not his. With a trace of a smile, he said politicians do like to make things positive.

CAMPAIGN TRIP—As for the six-day campaign tour to the Midwest and Pacific Coast he will start Friday, Eisenhower said the itinerary, has been arranged so that he can, through regional television and radio, reach the greatest number of people possible in those areas. He made that statement when asked why he is going into such states as Iowa, Kansas, Colorado and Illinois where there are no U.S. Senate races, and is passing up Minnesota and Wisconsin where there are such races.

Weatherman Says, 'Warm, No Rain'

Perfect Pumpkin Show weather graced the opening of the 52nd annual "greatest free show on the face of the earth" here today.

At 2 p.m. sharp, chimes rang atop the courthouse tower and at 2:15 the opening ceremonies took place at the corner of Court and Main Sts.

The famed little Miss Pumpkin Show parade was to get underway at 4 p.m. with a record 83 entries competing for the title. Judging was to start at 5 p.m. on the W. Main St. platform.

At 7:15 p.m. the Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps was to perform on the Circleville High School athletic field. This 48-man organization is tops in its field. Shuttles will leave from the corner of Court and Mound Sts. just prior to the performance and will return spectators to the downtown area as soon as the show is over.

Planned for 8 p.m. is the Miss Pumpkin Show parade. Fifteen high school girls from the Circleville area will compete for the crown. Two other girls will be named attendants.

The competition will be at 9 p.m. on the W. Main St. platform.

Other events scheduled for today were the concerts of the Amanda, Zaleski, Allensville, Walnut Twp., Ashville Grove City, Jackson Twp. and Hamilton Twp. high school bands, plus an appearance of the Yellowbud Community Band.

A free act, the trained monkeys Rita and Carmen, was to be on stage at 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. both on W. Main St.

Opening the whole four-day extravaganza was a 15-minute concert by Miss Barbara Sieverts on the Foresman Chimes in the courthouse tower.

AT 2:15 P. M. Mrs. Gerald Doering sang the national anthem to begin the formal ceremony. Mayor Ben H. Gordon spoke and the Rev. William Huber, St. Philip's Episcopal Church, gave the invocation.

The weather forecast for the next five days indicated temperatures in the 70s with "little or no chance of precipitation." Thus, the weatherman is cooperating with the Circleville Pumpkin Show. With the good weather forecast, show officials today predicted crowds of up to 250,000 persons in the four days.

Judging of the baked goods exhibit in the Armory on E. Franklin St. was to take place at 2 p.m. today. Judging of most other exhibits was set for tomorrow morning.

On the schedule for Thursday are the Pet Parade at 2 p.m., a judo exhibition, Ashville band variety show, WLW-C variety show, Jack Sherrick dance show, a Parade of Bands and jitterbug contest.

Facts, Faces, Figures

Punkin' Pickin's

Ned Dresbach, "Mr. Pumpkin Show Jr.", yesterday counted the number of exhibits, booths and rides located on the streets. There are 59 on E. Main St., 43 on W. Main St., 37 on N. Court St., and 40 on S. Court St. and five as yet unplaced for a total of 184.

Dresbach pointed out that figure does not count any booths or stands on private property nor does it count the exhibits such as grain, gourds, baked goods and such. All told there are probably 230 some things to see and visit at the Pumpkin Show.

Officer Red List of the Circleville Police Department reported this morning that "last night sure was dull."

This, the veteran policeman said, was a "good omen" for Pumpkin Show Week. He said he had seen "very little riffraff so far" and indicated that all would be fine insofar as police activities are concerned.

Nevertheless, local police officers are being placed on 12-hour work shifts for the balance of the week.

Helen Ankrom, 40, Columbus, accidentally dropped a piece of steel plate on her foot yesterday while helping erect a concession stand. She received emergency treatment at Berger Hospital.

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce should provide Pumpkin Show visitors many thrills with its "Dunkin' Machine".

A Jaycee member will sit 14-feet in the air until some lucky person hits a trip with a ball and he will fall into a six foot tank of water.

The machine is located on E. Franklin St., next to Pettit's Sport Store.

Charles Gray's Marathon Service, 202 N. Court St. joined in with the Pumpkin Show fever today and closed his station for the rest of Pumpkin Show week. Gray was cut off from all traffic by one block during the festival, so he threw open his lot to a lunch stand, locked his doors and plans to enjoy the show.

The younger set will be happy to know that the popular merry-go-round is at its usual spot on Franklin St. near City Hall. Workers were busy this morning polishing the horses and getting the music box tuned up.

Millionaires Accused

LONDON (AP)—Millionaires Lady Crane was accused Tuesday of enticing the skipper of her luxury yacht away from his wife.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise and his men were taking extra precaution against possible fires. The firemen were busy distributing water type pump tanks at key areas of the Pumpkin Show. Concessionaires are reminded that the tanks are located at the Taxi office, police station, Seitz building (hallway) on W. Main St., front porch of the Elks lodge on N. Court St., hallway of the Pythian Castle, the Third National Bank and at the information booth at Court and Main Sts.

A real GI appearance prevailed on street corners bordering the show today as Circleville's Co. I National Guard infantrymen assumed their duties as traffic guards. The guardsmen were decked out in shiny helmets, olive drab uniforms and polished combat boots. Some of their equipment included walkie-talkie radios.

Early observers today noted that three seats yet were to be erected on the ferris wheel. Workers at the scene said the seats would be in place by today's opening.

Bob Colville, "Mr. Pumpkin Show" himself, was not to be seen this morning. It's a sure bet that he was making some hurried rounds to insure that everything was going on schedule.

An appetizing aroma filled the streets early this morning as concessionaires started preparing food for this afternoon's expected flow of hungry spectators.

Jim Shea, Pumpkin Show program director, was a busy man today. He was noticed walking down the street this morning looking every way at once.

A sizable number of ladies were seen heading for the Armory on E. Franklin St. with delicious looking baked goods and some outstanding fancy work.

Huge Squash!

A tremendous 192-pound squash, largest in Pumpkin Show history, was entered in the display along W. Main St. today.

This gigantic squash far surpasses the 133 1/2-pounder which won top honors last year. Growers of both last year's champ and the new whopper are George and Frank Coon, Ashville.

Feuding Mayor Is Jailed By His Police Chief

AURORA, Ill. (AP)—Mayor Paul Egan, who has been feuding and fussing with the police chief he fired but who has refused to quit, was jailed Tuesday night by the chief.

Egan, the controversial and publicity-minded chief executive, stayed in his cell about five hours, long after his bond of $20 was posted. He had been charged with disorderly conduct.

The 60-year-old mayor wouldn't leave until bond for four college youths had been posted. They had been arrested when they refused to disperse from the mayor's emergency citizen's meeting. Police broke up the meeting, declaring it an unlawful assembly.

The stumpy little mayor put up a brief struggle.

Egan had called the meeting to organize a law enforcement group to replace the city's 68-man police force, which he also has fired.

He was in the midst of a tirade against the world in general and Police Chief Donald Curran in particular when the chief and eight policemen walked into the Council chamber.

"We got 10,000 people in America worse than anything they've got in Russia," Egan told the crowd of about 400. "And that Curran is the worst criminal in the whole world. He's worse than Khrushchev."

Curran, speaking over a portable loud-speaker, drowned out the mayor's words, as he said: "Mayor Egan, I arrest you in the name of the law for disorderly conduct and creating a disturbance."

"You'll hear about this," Egan shouted as the cops seized him. "This is going to be the most costly thing you ever did."

The mayor's troubles with the police erupted about three weeks ago when he fired Curran and the police force for failing to clamp down on bingo. But the City Council, voting 4-1, backed Curran and the police force. Egan's efforts to take charge have been frustrated on every front.

Sheriff Urges Aid of Parents On Halloween

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff today sounded an urgent request for area parents to do their part in keeping Halloween vandalism at a minimum.

Sheriff Radcliff pointed out that parents could help the situation by explaining the seriousness of property destroying pranks.

The sheriff agreed that youngsters should be allowed to have normal fun during Halloween, but cautioned that their actions should be stopped short of wanton destruction.

Radcliff especially was critical of pranks which cause injury or even death. He cited Monday night's tragic accident in which a young Walnut Twp. High School student was killed.

The fatal crash resulted when several youths went for a ride in a pickup truck in search of Halloween fun. Three other high school students were injured in the smashup.

Sheriff Radcliff said complaints concerning vandalism already have started pouring into his office. Monday night deputies were called to an area near Darbyville where straw had been scattered across the highway, then set afire.

"This could easily have caused a traffic fatality," the sheriff said. A large amount of straw was destroyed by the blaze, deputies added.

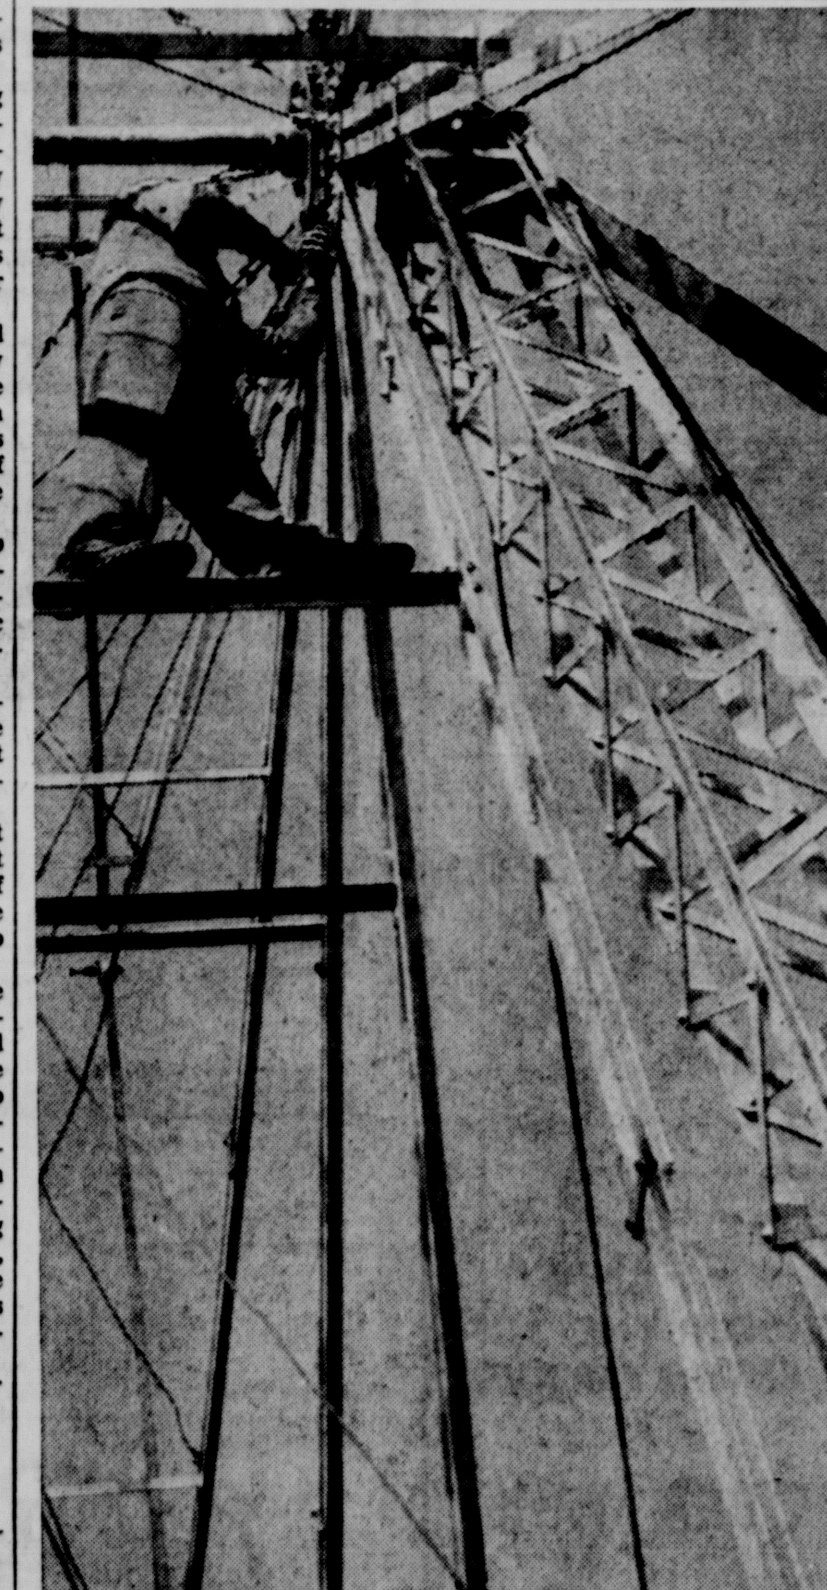

Radcliff emphasized that all parents should talk with their children, forbidding them to destroy property or take part in dangerous acts.

Married Student Ordered Returned To School Classes

MIDLAND PARK, N.J. (AP)—The State of New Jersey has no right to deny a child an education just because she gets married.

School Board President Frederick dePlanque announced Tuesday night that Mrs. Hope Skinner Nyman is as eligible to attend Midland Park High School as any other 16-year-old.

The legal opinion by board attorney John Hammersma Jr. was the latest development in a controversy that started last month when Hope returned to her senior year in high school a bride.

Weatherman Says, 'Warm, No Rain'

Perfect Pumpkin Show weather graced the opening of the 52nd annual "greatest free show on the face of the earth" here today.

At 2 p.m. sharp, chimes rang atop the courthouse tower and at 2:15 the opening ceremonies took place at the corner of Court and Main Sts.

The famed little Miss Pumpkin Show parade was to get under way at 4 p.m. with a record 83 entries competing for the title. Judging was to start at 5 p.m. on the W. Main St. platform.

At 7:15 p.m. the Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps was to perform on the Circleville High School athletic field. This 48-man organization is tops in its field. Shuttle-buses will leave from the corner of Court and Mound Sts. just prior to the performance and will return spectators to the downtown area as soon as the show is over.

Planned for 8 p.m. is the Miss Pumpkin Show parade. Fifteen high school girls from the Circleville area will compete for the crown. Two other girls will be named attendants.

The competition will be at 9 p.m. on the W. Main St. platform.

Other events scheduled for today were the concerts of the Amanda, Zaleski, Allensville, Walnut Twp., Ashville Grove City, Jackson Twp. and Hamilton Twp. high school bands, plus an appearance of the Yellowbud Community Band.

A free act, the trained monkeys Rita and Carmen, was to be on stage at 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. both on W. Main St.

Opening the whole four-day extravaganza was a 15-minute concert by Miss Barbara Sieverts on the Foresman Chimes in the courthouse tower.

AT 2:15 P. M. Mrs. Gerald Doering sang the national anthem to begin the formal ceremony. Mayor Ben H. Gordon spoke and the Rev. William Huber, St. Philip's Episcopal Church, gave the invocation.

The weather forecast for the next five days indicated temperatures in the 70s with "little or no chance of precipitation." Thus, the weatherman is cooperating with the Circleville Pumpkin Show. With the good weather forecast, show officials to a day predicted crowds of up to 250,000 persons in the four days.

Judging of the baked goods exhibit in the Armory on E. Franklin St. was to take place at 2 p.m. today. Judging of most other exhibits was set for tomorrow morning.

On the schedule for Thursday are the Pet Parade at 2 p.m., a judo exhibition, Ashville band variety show, WLWC variety show, Jack Sherick dance show, a Parade of Bands and jitterbug contest.

A real GI appearance prevailed on street corners bordering the show today as Circleville's Co. I National Guard infantrymen assumed their duties as traffic guards. The guardsmen were decked out in shiny helmets, olive drab uniforms and polished combat boots. Some of their equipment included walkie-talkie radios.

Early observers today noted that three seats yet were to be erected on the ferris wheel. Workers at the scene said the seats would be in place by today's opening.

Bob Colville, "Mr. Pumpkin Show" himself, was not to be seen this morning. It's a sure bet that he was making some hurried rounds to insure that everything was going on schedule.

An appetizing aroma filled the streets early this morning as concessionaires started preparing food for this afternoon's expected flow of hungry spectators.

A Jim Shea, Pumpkin Show program director, was a busy man today. He was noticed walking down the street this morning looking every way at once.

A sizable number of ladies were seen heading for the Armory on E. Franklin St. with delicious looking baked goods and some outstanding fancy work.

The younger set will be happy to know that the popular merry-go-round is at its usual spot on Franklin St. near City Hall. Workers were busy this morning polishing the horses and getting the music box tuned up.

Millionaires Accused

LONDON (AP) — Millionaires Lady Crane was accused Tuesday of enticing the skipper of her luxury yacht away from his wife.

Huge Squash!

A tremendous 192-pound squash, largest in Pumpkin Show history, was entered in the display along W. Main St. today.

This gigantic squash far surpasses the 132 1/2-pounder which won top honors last year. Growers of both last year's champ and the new whopper are George and Frank Coon, Ashville.

Walnut Squad Will Miss Ace David Smith

Walnut Twp. High School's six-man football team will sadly miss the services of David T. Smith, killed in an unfortunate truck accident near here Monday night.

Smith, 16, son of Luther Smith, Route 1, Ashville, died of massive chest injuries when the pickup truck he was riding in went out of control, smashed into a tree and partially overturned, pinning him underneath. He was riding in the backseat of the vehicle.

Three other Walnut School companions were injured in the crash. They were John Noecker, 16, Mickey J. Six, 17, and Andy Duvall, 16, all of Route 1, Ashville. Michael Neff, 14, Route 2, Ashville, was not injured. Smith, sparkling halfback for the Walnut grid squad, was leading scorer in the Pickaway County Six-Man league. His fine running and kicking had netted him 78 points in only four games.

THE YOUNG gridders always related that his high scoring potential was made possible by his hardworking teammates. His greatest fear was that his mates would not get enough credit.

Smith's best single game effort came two weeks ago against Scioto when he scored six touchdowns and two extra points for a total of 36 markers, probably a record for this area.

ACCORDING to Walnut officials, he was an excellent student who carried a superior grade average. He was president of his senior class and participated in many school activities.

Smith's football ability centered around his excessive speed as a halfback, making him a breakaway threat every time he carried the ball. Opposing coaches labeled him as a "smart" football player.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the St. Paul Lutheran Church, Ashville, with Rev. Henry Tighmeier officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home until noon Thursday and at the church prior to services.

DeMolay Plans Rites for Smith

Circleville Chapter Order of DeMolay and advisers will meet at the Masonic temple at 7 p. m. today in preparation for conducting special services for David T. Smith who was killed in an accident Monday night.

The group will travel to the Bastian Funeral Home, Ashville, where the services will be performed. Smith was master counsellor for the local DeMolay.

Mile of Pennies Drive Reaches Half-Way Point

The Circleville High School Bandmothers' Assn. "Mile of Pennies for the Band" has reached the half-way point, it was announced today by Mrs. Ray W. Davis, president of the group.

The drive started October 1 and will end Thanksgiving Day. School children from grades one through six and members of the Junior and senior bands are participating in the drive.

They are distributing special coin holders which contain 12 pennies and asking parents and friends to fill them. The holders were donated by the Circleville Savings and Banking Co., 118 N. Court St.

Individual and room prizes will be awarded the day before Thanksgiving to the individuals collecting the most holders and to the top collecting rooms.

THE PROJECT was initiated to assist the Bandmothers in raising approximately $800 for the band. A total of $500 is set aside each year for uniforms.

Other money is needed to provide buses for the band's away engagements, pay for repair, fitting and replacement of uniforms each year and to provide an annual "treat" for band members.

The Bandmothers ask everyone to remember its slogan, "Don't Spend a Red Cent—Save it for the Band."

A raise in copper prices at the custom smelter level and a spurt in housing starts were favorable news items.
Coppers were conspicuous in the early upsurge.

Walnut Squad Will Miss Ace David Smith

Walnut Twp. High School's six-man football team will sadly miss the services of David T. Smith, killed in an unfortunate truck accident near here Monday night.

Smith, 16, son of Luther Smith, Route 1, Ashville, died of massive chest injuries when the pickup truck he was riding in went out of control, smashed into a tree and partially overturned, pinning him underneath. He was riding in the back seat of the vehicle.

Three other Walnut School companions were injured in the crash. They were John Noecker, 16, Mickey J. Six, 17, and Andy Duvall, 16, all of Route 1, Ashville. Michael Neff, 14, Route 2, Ashville, was not injured. Smith, sparkling halfback for the Walnut grid squad, was leading scorer in the Pickaway County Six-Man league. His fine running and kicking had netted him 78 points in only four games.

THE YOUNG gridders always related that his high scoring potential was made possible by his hardworking teammates. His greatest fear was that his mates would not get enough credit.

Smith's best single game effort came two weeks ago against Scioto when he scored six touchdowns and two extra points for a total of 38 markers, probably a record for this area.

ACCORDING to Walnut officials, he was an excellent student who carried a superior grade average. He was president of his senior class and participated in many school activities.

Smith's football ability centered around his excessive speed as a halfback, making him a "smart" football player.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the St. Paul Lutheran Church, Ashville, with Rev. Henry Tighmeier officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home until noon Thursday and at the church prior to services.

DeMolay Plans Rites for Smith

Circleville Chapter Order of DeMolay and advisers will meet at the Masonic temple at 7 p. m. today in preparation for conducting special services for David T. Smith who was killed in an accident Monday night.

The group will travel to the Bastian Funeral Home, Ashville, where the services will be performed. Smith was master counsellor for the local DeMolay.

Mile of Pennies Drive Reaches Half-Way Point

The Circleville High School Bandmothers' Assn. "Mile of Pennies for the Band" has reached the half-way point, it was announced today by Mrs. Ray W. Davis president of the group.

The drive started October 1 and will end Thanksgiving Day. School children from grades one through six and members of the Junior and senior bands are participating in the drive.

They are distributing special coin holders which contain 12 pennies and asking parents and friends to fill them. The holders were donated by the Circleville Savings and Banking Co., 118 N. Court St.

Individual and room prizes will be awarded the day before Thanksgiving to the individuals collecting the most holders and to the top collecting rooms.

THE PROJECT was initiated to assist the Bandmothers in raising approximately $900 for the band. A total of $500 is set aside each year for uniforms.

Other money is needed to provide buses for the band's away engagements, pay for repair, fitting and replacement of uniforms each year and to provide an annual "treat" for band members.

The Bandmothers ask everyone to remember its slogan, "Don't Spend a Red Cent—Save it for the Band."

Stock Mart Is Turbulent,

NEW YORK (AP)—A turbulent stock market turned irregularly lower early this afternoon after making a strong rebound from Tuesday's fall. Trading was very heavy.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point peppered the list of key stocks.

The market was strong at the start as coppers and steels led the recovery from Tuesday's sharp sell-off on the biggest volume in three years. Gains of these leaders were erased or trimmed after the first upward drive slackened.

NO TRAFFIC — This is a view of S. Court St. Tuesday morning. With booths lining the street and trucks unloading goods for the booths, all traffic was at a standstill. Four of the city center blocks downtown are in a similar state with about 200 different booths, rides and exhibits jamming the midtown area. (Photo by Beaver Studio)

After All These Years on TV Jack Benny Has No Worries

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Benny ordered some hot coffee sent up to his hotel suite the other day during a visit to New York.

"Please," he told room service, "make it so hot that you can't carry it." Hanging up the telephone, he said to a visitor, "To be honest about it, that line is stolen from George Burns."

"That reminds me of a story," said a friend of Benny's. "There was this kid three, four years old who seemed perfectly normal in every way except that he wouldn't talk. His parents were worried sick about it. They did everything possible, but the kid wouldn't say a word."

"Finally one morning when they served him his cocoa, he tasted it and yelled, 'Gee, that's too hot!' His parents burst into tears of joy, kissed him and asked, 'Why haven't you ever spoken before, dear?' The kid said, 'There hasn't been anything to complain about before.'"

Extraordinarily calm and unharassed in his twenty-sixth year of radio and television, you might say Benny has never sounded off a great deal because he doesn't feel he's had anything to complain about.

Week in and week out his Sunday CBS-TV show is the most visible half-hour comedy show on the air. He doesn't worry about "changing format" problems because the format of the show always is changing from week to week anyway.

The first 10 years are the hardest, he feels. He used to work like a dog after he began his radio program in 1932, "scared every week that they'd fire me if it wasn't the best show ever." But after nine years on television he doesn't worry any more.

Why did he start the happy myth that Benny is the most tight-fisted man in the world?

"It began as an accident on radio," he said. "I did a couple of jokes about being tight and it caught on. Apparently everybody has a skinflint in his family. I went on with it because people demanded it—I had to. It was like being carried along by an avalanche. And now it's a permanent fixture of me as an entertainer."

The waiter brought in coffee. Benny tipped him heavily. The waiter left with a shocked expression.

That waiter must have worn gloves to carry the coffee. Benny thought it barely warm enough, but his visitor scolded his tongue. "Serves you right for stealing jokes," Benny said mildly.

Male Answer to the Sack

Many a woman must wish at times that men's clothes for a change would take a silly turn, too, so that men couldn't always be poking fun at women's fashions.

Well, girls, maybe your chance is coming. From New York comes news about the "Continental Look" in suits due to hit the stores next spring. It may not be much to look at. But it carries on its narrow "French" shoulders the hopes of an industry that is morose over the fact that the average American male over 18 buys only a third of a suit of clothes a year.

The Continental has more than the narrow shoulders shared with the Ivy or Brooksby crowd. It has short jackets and pinched-in waists and tight trousers and no cuffs on the trousers! Instead of hanging straight from the shoulders the jacket is tight across the chest and around the waist. Pockets are "slanted at a 30-degree angle." There is no breast pocket at all.

What all this adds up to is something that seems akin to planned adolescence. Some of the big clothiers say they are taking the gamble and the plunge.

So is it goodbye, then, to the natural silhouette, the easy-fitting jacket, the breast pocket kerchief, the pants you can get in to with your shoes on if you want to? Time will tell.

Female People and the Phone

By Hal Boyle

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—People, especially female people, pass through fascinating attitudes toward the telephone.

To an infant learning to use her fingers, the telephone is an object of curiosity, especially the holes in the dial ring. To the baby learning to walk and reach up, the phone is an enticing target to be pulled down with a crash. To a healthy girl of 10 or 11, the phone is a fine instrument of torture.

At this age, they call people with the oddest names in the directory to tease them. Or they call their school teacher, wait until she says hello several times before they giggle and hang up.

But it is in the teens that a girl develops a passion for the phone from which she never recovers.

At this age, as every rattled father-knows, using the phone involves three basic ground rules. You never talk 10 minutes when you can talk 45. You must talk with your head down, knees or legs up, and the blood rushing to your head. Regardless of text, you must always, but always, talk in absolute, fool-proof, spy-proof, younger-sister-proof secrecy.

Thus when phoning a girl friend you saw only 20 minutes ago, you must drag the phone into the closet or bathroom and bolt the door.

You whisper to the party of the second part: "Guess what?" Then pause. This is the signal for the other girl to bolt her doors and windows and set up a maximum security watch. Finally, she asks, "What?" and you say in hushed, sepulchral tones: "I saw HIM today."

Here, at least a full moment of silence must follow until the message sinks in, down to the last red and white corpuscle of both parties. Then, 38 minutes later, the situation becomes clearer. It turns out that she did see HIM but while HE may not have actually seen her, any reasonable person, given a knowledge of the wind direction, of the speed of sound and the force of osmosis, could safely assume that HE must have been aware of her presence.

For most of eternity, teen-age girls talk to each other. But every now and then, like an awesome clap of thunder, HE calls. Inevitably, younger sister answers. Younger sister races hysterically up the stairs, screaming HE is on the phone. Older sister quickly composes herself. She wants to know why all the shouting. She is blase. She is detached. She is so indifferent and casual getting to the phone she falls down the stairs.

Younger sister races through the house, screaming: "He's going to ask her to marry him (at age 15)! I think they're too young. I think they ought to be annulled!"

Older sister asks casually, into the phone, who's calling, is told, asks again as though she can't place the name. They talk. She is oh so light and matter of fact. Then it turns out all he wanted was the algebra assignment for tomorrow.

Older sister races upstairs, bolts doors, weeps, plans glamorous suicide. Eight minutes later she is fully recovered and back on the phone, talking to her girl friend . . . "Guess what?" . . .

Infallibility of the Pope

By George Sokolsky

Whenever a new Pope is to be elected, interest usually turns to the strength of the Roman Catholic Church which survives attack from outside or weakness from within. As history is now written, this is a young religion, not quite 2,000 years old. It is an outgrowth of the appearance of Jesus in Jerusalem and the spread of His doctrine by Paul and his associates among the peoples of the Roman Empire.

Most of the early churches were actually in Jewish synagogues, some of the synagogues going over to the new doctrine altogether; some divided their buildings between those who accepted the Messiah and those who rejected Him. Peter preached the Gospel in Rome and he became the first Bishop of Rome. That does not mean that that was the first Christian Church, for there were earlier churches in Palestine, Syria, Greece, etc.

authority of the Bishop of Rome by precedent.

Perhaps the cornerstone of the organization of the Catholic Church is the doctrine of the infallibility of the Pope in matters of faith and morals, often referred to in early writings, confirmed by the Council of Florence in 1439 and reconfirmed by the Constitution of July 18, 1870 which finally settled also the matter of primacy.

It is the infallibility of the Pope in matters of faith and morals which makes the Roman Catholic Church universal in organization and dogma. Archbishop Paul Yu-pin, who is Chinese, is at home in a Catholic church or Catholic community in any part of the world. There is one Church, one liturgy, one set of rules, the exception being, of course, the Eastern Rites. When the Pope speaks ex-cathedra it is with the full authority of the Church because he speaks from the "chair of Peter."

There was a time when the Church was an important temporal ruler and exercised great worldly powers. Today all that is left of that is the very small area called Vatican City, and the Pope's Summer palace. Nevertheless, without the use of force or the display of power, the Pope exercises more influence than ever. He no longer calls upon any government to assist him to establish his power, but by moral suasion, by the sobriety of his life and his devotion to duty, he appeals to the minds and hearts of men. Among recent Popes, Leo XIII, Pius XI and Pius XII, were particularly significant in their capacity to introduce moral factors into world affairs.

Although the Roman Catholic Church has often lost adherents, as, for instance, the split between Constantinople and Rome, or the Reformation, it has never encountered a situation as difficult as the present one when atheistic Communism has made the Church of Rome its special target and has devoted itself to an invasion of Roman Catholic areas particularly Italy and France. The Church's greatest losses have been such countries as Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia which were profoundly Catholic before the Kremlin took over. In this struggle, the Church retaliates with the inspiration of the miracle of Fatima.

Here's View of Heart Attack

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Let's say you are a businessman just past your 50th birthday. You've had a hard day at the office, so you come home pretty weary. Yet you eat a sizeable meal.

You feel perfectly well, but you are still tired so you go to bed early.

Along about midnight you are suddenly awakened by an odd sensation. It seems as though there is a heavy pressure under the breastbone in the center of your chest, either on a line with armpits or a few inches lower. You feel faint and you break out in a cold sweat.

You are having a coronary thrombosis with myocardial infarction—a heart attack!

At first you thought it might be indigestion or heart burn, but now the pain is severe and you are really worried. You would like to retain your manly indifference to illness, but your wife calls the doctor and you are glad she does.

The family physician knows the symptoms, even though you haven't been ill for years and you thought your heart as sound as a pre-war dollar.

To relieve the pain he gives you an injection of morphine. It doesn't help. Some 20 minutes later he gives you another. The pain begins to subside.

The doctor orders oxygen for you and you are scared, but once you begin breathing it you are glad again that he is there taking care of everything.

You remember reading somewhere that a heart attack is one of the most common major illnesses. And you recall that 80 per cent of all heart attack victims survive their first attack and most of these recover almost fully. It's reassuring, but not too much.

As you sleep fitfully through the night, your doctor tells your wife that there are many anti-cancer drugs available, such as dicumarol, heparin and coumadin, but he doesn't believe any of them are necessary in your case.

Along about noon the following day you wake, exhausted but happy that the pain has almost disappeared.

That evening your fever is about 100 degrees. The next day your fever is slightly higher, about 101 degrees, but you feel much better.

By the end of the week you feel ready to go back to work again.

Your doctor explains that your heart attack was not a severe one. However, he insists that you remain in bed for another two to three weeks. After that, you can sit in a chair for a while each day and then gradually begin to walk.

But it will be three months before you can return to work.

Question and Answer

A. P. A. What is allergy and is it inherited?

A. Allergy is a sensitivity which some people develop to substances which are ordinarily harmless to most other people. The illness of the allergic individual may be mild—a light attack of hay fever or a brief outbreak of hives or it may be severe and extremely serious—an acute attack of asthma, a stubborn and painful skin rash, or sudden collapse.

Allergy as a rule is not inherited.

The World Today

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has joined the ranks of Republican leaders who say or imply that socialism may result if the Democrats retain control of Congress.

The raising of this old political specter apparently is a deliberate GOP strategy born of acute shortage of campaign contributions.

Hardening of the financial arteries is not restricted to the Republican party alone. The Democrats also are finding their supporters slow with a buck this year.

But there is a basic difference between the two parties in the way they parcel out their campaign money in congressional elections. The Republicans have more central control in Washington, while the Democrats depend on local contributions raked up by the individual candidates.

Republicans figure each of their campaign committees—national, House and Senate—needs a million dollars this year for a total of three million dollars. So far, they have collected about 40 per cent of that.

The Democrats' House committee had a $250,000 campaign budget last time. This year it has been cut to $75,000.

Eisenhower is reported to have appealed to affluent Republicans for more open-handed contributions during White House stag dinners. Tuesday, combining his 68th birthday celebration with party politics at a partisan breakfast, he said:

"We started off in 1952 to break away from the kind of government the kind of political philosophy, that wants to put all power, all direction of our economy and of our whole population, in the hands of a central bureaucracy."

Nine days ago GOP leaders went beyond that. After meeting with Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon at the White House Oct. 6, they issued a statement saying:

"Either we Americans dedicate ourselves to strengthening and preserving private enterprise, using the only dependable political instrument available—the Republican party—or we are certain to go down the left lane which leads inescapably to socialism."

Three days later, on Oct. 9, Nixon was in Columbus, Ohio, making a campaign speech. In it, the vice president argued that the Eisenhower administration had done more than its Democratic predecessors to increase Social Security benefits, raise wages and stabilize the cost of living.

Such seeming inconsistencies—warning against socialism one day and boasting of Social Security gains three days later—are what Americans generally expect in a campaign year. Former President Truman's slam-bang tactics demonstrate that no party has a patent on political doubletalk.

In this case, it appears to have a precise purpose—to yell "boo" at the people who are most afraid of ghosts. Moneyed, ultra-conservative Republicans—no matter how disenchanted with Eisenhower-type "Modern Republicanism"—might be made to part with bigger checks if convinced the alternative was the socialism they so despise.

But neither party has yet solved another factor. Republicans say some of their people will not contribute because they are sure the GOP will lose and why waste money on a sure loser.

Democrats say an argument they run into is just the opposite—we're a shoo-in, and you don't need my money.

Male Answer to the Sack

Many a woman must wish at times that men's clothes for a change would take a silly turn, too, so that men couldn't always be poking fun at women's fashions.

Well, girls, maybe your chance is coming. From New York comes news about the "Continental Look" in suits due to hit the stores next spring. It may not be much to look at. But it carries on its narrow "French" shoulders the hopes of an industry that is morose over the fact that the average American male over 18 buys only a third of a suit of clothes a year.

The Continental has more than the narrow shoulders shared with the Ivy or Brooks crowd. It has short jackets and pinched-in waists and tight trousers and no cuffs on the trousers! Instead of hanging straight from the shoulders the jacket is tight across the chest and around the waist. Pockets are "slanted at a 30-degree angle." There is no breast pocket at all.

What all this adds up to is something that seems akin to planned adolescence. Some of the big clothiers say they are taking the gamble and the plunge.

So is it goodbye, then, to the natural silhouette, the easy-fitting jacket, the breast pocket kerchief, the pants you can get into with your shoes on if you want to? Time will tell.

Female People and the Phone

By Hal Boyle

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — People, especially female people, pass through fascinating attitudes toward the telephone.

To an infant learning to use her fingers, the telephone is an object of curiosity, especially the holes in the dial ring. To the baby learning to walk and reach up, the phone is an enticing target to be pulled down with a crash. To a healthy girl of 10 or 11, the phone is a fine instrument of torture.

At this age, they call people with the oddest names in the directory to tease them. Or they call their school teacher, wait until she says hello several times before they giggle and hang up.

But it is in the teens that a girl develops a passion for the phone from which she never recovers.

At this age, as every rattled father-knows, using the phone involves three basic ground rules. You never talk 10 minutes when you can talk 45. You must talk with your head down, knees or legs up, and the blood rushing to your head. Regardless of text, you must always, but always, talk in absolute, fool-proof, spy-proof, younger-sister-proof secrecy.

Thus when phoning a girl friend you saw only 20 minutes ago, you must drag the phone into the closet or bathroom and bolt the door.

You whisper to the party of the second part: "Guess what?" Then pause. This is the signal for the other girl to bolt her doors and windows and set up a maximum security watch. Finally, she asks, "What?" and you say in hushed, sepulchral tones: "I saw HIM today."

Here, at least a full moment of silence must follow until the message sinks in, down to the last red and white corpuscle of both parties. Then, 38 minutes later, the situation becomes clearer. It turns out that she did see HIM but while HE may not have actually seen her, any reasonable person, given a knowledge of the wind direction, of the speed of sound and the force of osmosis, could safely assume that HE must have been aware of her presence.

For most of eternity, teen-age girls talk to each other. But every now and then, like an awesome clap of thunder, HE calls. Inevitably, younger sister answers. Younger sister races hysterically up the stairs, screaming HE is on the phone. Older sister quickly composes herself. She wants to know why all the shouting. She is blasé. She is detached. She is so indifferent and casual getting to the phone she falls down the stairs.

Younger sister races through the house, screaming: "He's going to ask her to marry him (at age 15)! I think they're too young. I think they ought to be annulled!"

Older sister asks casually, into the phone, who's calling, is told, asks again as though she can't place the name. They talk. She is oh so light and matter of fact. Then it turns out all he wanted was the algebra assignment for tomorrow.

Older sister races upstairs, bolts doors, weeps, plans glamorous suicide. Eight minutes later she is fully recovered and back on the phone, talking to her girl friend . . . "Guess what?" . . .

Infallibility of the Pope

By George Sokolsky

Whenever a new Pope is to be elected, interest usually turns to the strength of the Roman Catholic Church which survives attack from outside or weakness from within. As history is now written, this is a young religion, not quite 2,000 years old. It is an outgrowth of the appearance of Jesus in Jerusalem and the spread of His doctrine by Paul and his associates among the peoples of the Roman Empire.

Most of the early churches were actually in Jewish synagogues, some of the synagogues going over to the new doctrine altogether; some divided their buildings between those who accepted the Messiah and those who rejected Him. Peter preached the Gospel in Rome and he became the first Bishop of Rome. That does not mean that that was the first Christian Church, for there were earlier churches in Palestine, Syria, Greece, etc.

In the early Christian era, the Bishop was the head of his particular church and there were differences of opinion as to dogma and Church government among the various Bishops. In the hope of ending these controversies, particularly as between the Unitarians and the Trinitarians, the Council of Nicea was held in 325 A.D. The Nicene Creed established the basic dogma of the Christian Church.

The word, Pope, is perhaps one of the simplest in any language. It comes from the Latin word papa, and means Father. The Pope, while he is regarded as the Father of Christendom, is also a priest, and in nearly all languages a Catholic priest is called Father. According to Catholic doctrine, it was Jesus' purpose that the successor to Peter should be the head of the Church and therefore the Bishop of Rome holds this position and is usually referred to as the Pope or the Holy Father. Non-Catholic historians have taken the view that it was the decision of the Roman Emperor to accept Christianity as a state religion and thus he established the Bishop of Rome as the head of the Church.

It is easily found in Church history that in the earliest period of the Church, certainly by the second and third centuries, other Christian communities referred doctrinal matters to Rome for decision, thus establishing the authority of the Bishop of Rome by precedent.

Perhaps the cornerstone of the organization of the Catholic Church is the doctrine of the infallibility of the Pope in matters of faith and morals, often referred to in early writings, confirmed by the Council of Florence in 1439 and reconfirmed by the Constitution of July 18, 1870 which finally settled also the matter of primacy.

It is the infallibility of the Pope in matters of faith and morals which makes the Roman Catholic Church universal in organization and dogma. Archbishop Paul Yu-pin, who is Chinese, is at home in a Catholic church or Catholic community in any

Pamphlet Mailing Bill Is Far Below Estimate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said today it cost less than $75,000 to mail about 3 million pamphlets to voters listing arguments for and against proposed constitutional amendment No. 2.

Brown originally asked $150,000 for the mailing, which is required, by law. He said savings in printing and postage brought the total cost to $74,772.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A COCKY NAVIGATOR in a service plane, writes "Doc" Humes got mixed up in his calculations one stormy night, and ran his plane smack into a mountain. The pilot managed to pancake the craft at the last moment, but as he climbed out of the wreckage, he chewed out the navigator in no uncertain terms.

The navigator, bloody but unbowed, retaliated, "Whaddya mean, lost? Do you think for one second I don't know the name of this mountain?"

"I hear," a wife told her husband when he got home, "that all those drinks you had this afternoon didn't agree with you." "Where did you get that erroneous information?" demanded hubby. "Oh," she said airily, "a little burp told me."

Have you heard about the baby bull who gazed adoringly at his blue-ribbon-winning father and confided, "All I want in life is to stay by your side for heifer and heifer and heifer?"

Here's View of Heart Attack

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Let's say you are a businessman just past your 50th birthday. You've had a hard day at the office, so you come home pretty weary. Yet you eat a sizeable meal.

You feel perfectly well, but you are still tired so you go to bed early.

Along about midnight you are suddenly awakened by an odd sensation. It seems as though there is a heavy pressure under the breastbone in the center of your chest, either on a line with armpits or a few inches lower. You feel faint and you break out in a cold sweat.

You are having a coronary thrombosis with myocardial infarction—a heart attack!

At first you thought it might be indigestion or heart burn, but now the pain is severe and you are really worried. You would like to retain your manly indifference to illness, but your wife calls the doctor and you are glad she does.

The family physician knows the symptoms, even though you haven't been ill for years and you thought your heart as sound as a pre-war dollar.

To relieve the pain he gives you an injection of morphine. It doesn't help. Some 20 minutes later he gives you another. The pain begins to subside.

The doctor orders oxygen for you and you are scared, but once you begin breathing it you are glad again that he is there taking care of everything.

You remember reading somewhere that a heart attack is one of the most common major illnesses. And you recall that 80 per cent of all heart attack victims survive their first attack and most of these recover almost fully. It's reassuring, but not too much.

As you sleep fitfully through the night, your doctor tells your wife that there are many antiaggregant drugs available, such as dicumarol, heparin and coumadin, but he doesn't believe any of them are necessary in your case.

Along about noon the following day you wake, exhausted but happy that the pain has almost disappeared.

That evening your fever is about 100 degrees. The next day your fever is slightly higher, about 101 degrees, but you feel much better.

By the end of the week you feel ready to go back to work again. Your doctor explains that your heart attack was not a severe one. However, he insists that you remain in bed for another two to three weeks. After that, you can sit in a chair for a while each day and then gradually begin to walk.

But it will be three months before you can return to work.

Question and Answer

A. P. A. What is allergy and is it inherited?

A. Allergy is a sensitivity which some people develop to substances which are ordinarily harmless to most other people. The illness of the allergic individual may be mild—a light attack of hay fever or a brief outbreak of hives or it may be severe and extremely serious—an acute attack of asthma, a stubborn and painful skin rash, or sudden collapse.

Allergy as a rule is not inherited.

The World Today

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has joined the ranks of Republican leaders who say or imply that socialism may result if the Democrats retain control of Congress.

The raising of this old political specter apparently is a deliberate GOP strategy born of acute shortage of campaign contributions.

Hardening of the financial arteries is not restricted to the Republican party alone. The Democrats also are finding their supporters slow with a buck this year.

But there is a basic difference between the two parties in the way they parcel out their campaign money in congressional elections. The Republicans have more central control, in Washington, while the Democrats depend on local contributions raked up by the individual candidates.

Republicans figure each of their campaign committees—national, House and Senate—needs a million dollars this year for a total of three million dollars. So far, they have collected about 40 per cent of that.

The Democrats' House committee had a $250,000 campaign budget last time. This year it has been cut to $75,000.

Eisenhower is reported to have appealed to affluent Republicans for more open-handed contributions during White House stag dinners. Tuesday, combining his 66th birthday celebration with party politics at a partisan breakfast, he said:

"We started off in 1952 to break away from the kind of government that wants to put all power, all direction of our economy and of our whole population, in the hands of a central bureaucracy."

Nine days ago GOP leaders went beyond that. After meeting with Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon at the White House Oct. 6, they issued a statement saying:

"Either we Americans dedicate ourselves to strengthening and preserving private enterprise, using the only dependable political instrument available—the Republican party—or we are certain to go down the left lane which leads inescapably to socialism."

Three days later, on Oct. 9, Nixon was in Columbus, Ohio, making a campaign speech. In it, the vice president argued that the Eisenhower administration had done more than its Democratic predecessors to increase Social Security benefits, raise wages and stabilize the cost of living.

Such seeming inconsistencies—warning against socialism one day and boasting of Social Security gains three days later—are what Americans generally expect in a campaign year. Former President Truman's slam-bang tactics demonstrate that no party has a patent on political doubletalk.

In this case, it appears to have a precise purpose—to yell "boo" at the people who are most afraid of ghosts. Moneyed, ultraconservative Republicans—no matter how disenchanted with Eisenhower-type "Modern Republicanism"—might be made to part with bigger checks if convinced the alternative was the socialism they so despise.

But neither party has yet solved another factor. Republicans say some of their people will not contribute because they are sure the GOP will lose and why waste money on a sure loser.

Democrats say an argument they run into is just the opposite—we're a shoo-in, and you don't need my money.

O'Connor Winner Of Lasker Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Basil O'Connor has been named as the first layman to receive one of the country's foremost medical prizes, the Albert Lasker Award. It was for his work in spearheading the drive to conquer infantile paralysis.

O'Connor is president of the National Foundation, formerly the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He was selected for the Lasker Award by a committee of the American Public Health Assn.

The prizes in the fields of medical research and public health administration are provided by the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation, named for the noted philanthropists.

In honoring O'Connor, the Public Health Foundation said he "probably more than any other layman of modern times has contributed significantly to the substantial conquest throughout the world of a major disease of childhood, paralytic poliomyelitis."

"Since the introduction of the Salk vaccine, the incidence of polio in the United States has declined by 86 per cent, from an annual average of 38,700 cases in the prevaccine years 1950-54 to 5,500 in 1957," the foundation added.

Dr. Jonas Salk developed the vaccine under one of the many projects sponsored by the polio foundation headed by O'Connor.

Others named as winners of the 13th annual Lasker Awards are:

Dr. Robert W. Wilkins of the Boston University School of Medicine for "distinguished contributions to the control of heart and blood vessel diseases through outstanding investigations in the causes, diagnosis and treatment of hypertension."

Dr. Peyton Rous of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York, for "invaluable contributions of new knowledge on the causes of cancers, the source of antibodies, and the mechanism of blood cell generation and destruction in human beings."

Dr. Theodore Puck, University of Colorado Medical Center, Denver, for "development of original methods for pure culture of living mammalian cells as a basis for new research in nutrition, growth, genetics and mutation."

Dr. Alfred D. Hershey, Carnegie Institute of Washington, Department of Genetics, Cold Spring, N.Y.; Dr. Gerhard Schramm, Max Planck Institute, Tuebingen, Germany; and Dr. Heinz Fraenkel-Conrat, University of California Virus Laboratory, Berkeley, jointly for "their part in the discovery of the fundamental role of nucleic acid in the reproduction of viruses and in the transmission of inherited characteristics."

Each of the winners will receive $2,500 plus citations and gold statuettes.

Presentation of the awards will be made at St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 30 at the 86th annual meeting of the American Public Health Assn.

The Conference will serve as a question and answer session for local school district delegates who are interested in furthering their educational facilities.

For those who have expressed an interest this Conference will help develop school curriculums, to help solve the financial problems and to work with the professional people to have the schools serve the community needs.

The get together on this day should appeal to individuals who do not wish to appear formally before local school boards or before teacher groups to express their thoughts and opinions.

THIS CONFERENCE will give anyone in the school district an opportunity to bring up for discussion his or her convictions and have them reviewed and discussed by others in attendance.

Many of these points will be brought to the State level where further consideration will be given to them. The conclusions will be made available to the general public and government agencies for consideration and action.

Registration cards now are being received and are being processed by the registration committee. Each district is allotted delegates plus an additional educator. Each district also is allowed as many observers as it wishes.

The keynote speaker will be Gov. C. William O'Neill. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. Lunch will be served at noon.

O'Connor Winner Of Lasker Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Basil O'Connor has been named as the first layman to receive one of the country's foremost medical prizes, the Albert Lasker Award. It was for his work in spearheading the drive to conquer infantile paralysis.

O'Connor is president of the National Foundation, formerly the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He was selected for the Lasker Award by a committee of the American Public Health Assn.

The prizes in the fields of medical research and public health administration are provided by the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation, named for the noted philanthropists.

In honoring O'Connor, the Public Health Foundation said he "probably more than any other layman of modern times has contributed significantly to the substantial conquest throughout the world of a major disease of childhood, paralytic poliomyelitis."

"Since the introduction of the Salk vaccine, the incidence of polio in the United States has declined by 86 per cent, from an annual average of 38,700 cases in the prevaccine years 1950-54 to 5,500 in 1957," the foundation added.

Dr. Jonas Salk developed the vaccine under one of the many projects sponsored by the polio foundation headed by O'Connor.

Others named as winners of the 13th annual Lasker Awards are: Dr. Robert W. Wilkins of the Boston University School of Medicine for "distinguished contributions to the control of heart and blood vessel diseases through outstanding investigations in the causes, diagnosis and treatment of hypertension."

Dr. Peyton Rous of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York, for "invaluable contributions of new knowledge on the causes of cancers, the source of antibodies, and the mechanism of blood cell generation and destruction in human beings."

Dr. Theodore Puck, University of Colorado Medical Center, Denver, for "development of original methods for pure culture of living mammalian cells as a basis for new research in nutrition, growth, genetics and mutation."

Dr. Alfred D. Hershey, Carnegie Institute of Washington, Department of Genetics, Cold Spring, N.Y.; Dr. Gerhard Schramm, Max Planck Institute, Tuebingen, Germany; and Dr. Heinz Fraenkel-Conrat, University of California Virus Laboratory, Berkeley, jointly for "their part in the discovery of the fundamental role of nucleic acid in the reproduction of viruses and in the transmission of inherited characteristics."

Each of the winners will receive $2,500 plus citations and gold statuettes. Presentation of the awards will be made at St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 30 at the 86th annual meeting of the American Public Health Assn.

Prudential Plans PS Open House

The Prudential Insurance Company's local office staff will have an open house during Pumpkin Show in its new office at 214 S. Court St., across from the Pickaway County courthouse.

The Prudential office was moved last week after a 13-year stay at 110 1/2 S. Court St. In more than 65 years here the office has been moved four times.

For a number of years it was located at 115 1/2 E. Main St. The new ground floor office was moved for the convenience of its customers, according to staff manager Leroy Slusser.

The open house will run from 3 until 9 p. m. each day of the annual Circleville festival. Coffee will be served.

The local Prudential staff of eight men represents a total of 78 years experience. They invite all clients and friends to visit their new facilities.

Miss Nancy Gibbs Bride Of Mr. Paul Hamilton

Palms and sprays of white gladioli and pom pon decorated the altar of the First EUB Church when Miss Nancy Jane Gibbs became the bride of Mr. Paul William Hamilton at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, September 21.

Miss Gibbs is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. O. F. Gibbs, 326 E. Main St. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Isaac William Hamilton, Watt St.

The Rev. Gibbs, father of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony.

Prenuptial music was presented by Mrs. Verneal Thomas, organist and Mrs. Charles Haynes, soloist. Mrs. Haynes sang "Always," "Because" and "Oh Promise Me." The "Lord's Prayer" was played as a cornet solo by Mr. J. Roy MacMurray.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. John Charles Gibbs, Somerset, the bride wore a gown of white imported lace with a rose design and nylon tulle. It featured a Peter Pan collar, sleeves which tapered to points at the hands and a pointed Basque bodice.

The lace overskirt extended over rows of tiny nylon ruffles. The fingertip imported veil of illusion was caught to a lace tiara reem-broidered in pearls and iridescent sequins.

She carried a white lace fan topped with white rose buds accented with English ivy.

Mrs. Max Skinner, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Her gown was of dusty rose taffeta with a rounded neckline and short sleeves featuring a V-back. The bouffant skirt was caught in the back with a large bow.

White gloves, matching head dress and a pearl necklace completed her costume. She carried white rose buds and pom pons accented with greenery in a bird cage.

Bridesmaids were sisters of the bride, Misses Sandra and Jackie Gibbs. They wore identical

Medical Mirror

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

- Alcoholism
- Hepatitis
- Meniere's Disease

Q. "Is there any real difference between the social drinker and the alcoholic? Do doctors approve of Alcoholics Anonymous?"—No name.

A. Self-control distinguishes the social drinker and the alcoholic. The social drinker, even though he may drink heavily, can stop any time he chooses. The alcoholic is unable to stop drinking once he gets started. It is not known why this "all or none" law applies to the alcoholic. As for the attitude of doctors toward Alcoholics Anonymous, the President of the New York City Medical Society on Alcoholism recently said: "Without any doubt it (Alcoholics Anonymous) is the most effective of all therapies for those who can and will avail themselves of it."

Q. "What is the difference between viral and toxic hepatitis? What are the causes?"—L.R.

A. The word "hepatitis" means inflammation of the liver. As the name suggests, viral (infectious) hepatitis is caused by a virus which is passed along by human contacts or through contaminated water or food. A somewhat different form of viral hepatitis is sometimes due to injections of virus-contaminated blood or to medicinal preparations made from human blood. Toxic hepatitis is a condition in which liver injury is caused by chemical agents.

Q. "Have there been any recent developments in the treatment of Meniere's disease?"—A Canadian reader.

A. A wholly satisfactory plan of treatment for Meniere's disease has not yet been developed. (For those unfamiliar with the condition, Meniere's disease is an ear condition which causes dizziness, often with nausea and vomiting, head noises, and deafness in one or both ears.) Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Dr. J. D. Ralston, Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Square Station, N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: my husband and I are in our mid-twenties. We have two children under six years, which limits our social life considerably.

Since last year, when our second child was born, several of our friends have moved away and we seem unable to form new close friendships.

Recently I returned to my old job, where I work with several girls but, as they are all single, their interests differ from ours, and we find little in common.

Both my husband and I are devoted church members, but due to his work schedule he can attend only the Sunday morning service. There are no young married couples in our community, nor anyone available as baby-sitter. So it is necessary to take our children wherever we go.

We have become depressed over the fact that we seem to be left out of all social activities. Would you please advise how we can have at least some social life, and acquire new friends?

DEAR E.S.: There are seasons in married life and child rearing, that may be likened to the wintry months of nature's cycle. Then the sensible thing to do is to take the freeze in stride, invest yourself in the duties at hand, and wait the return of a sunnier season more favorable to general growth and social expansion.

It just happens that you are cut off from social consolation at this time—with neither old friends, nor family, nor other young-marrieds living close by. I think it will help your morale if you take this fact into account, and keep it in mind, when coping with your forlorn sense of being dropped by the world outside.

Instead of visualizing life as a bustling parade that is bypassing you, remember, rather, that the way to have friends is to be a friend, and begin precisely where you are—being appropriately outgoing and gracious to those in your path.

Who is your next door neighbor, to the right and left? And across the street? And down the block? Are there shopping errands you might do for one or another, occa-

State Pinball Fund Now Totals $26,483

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One of the more obscure funds maintained by the state has a tidy amount of change in it. The fund, compiled from change in pinball machines confiscated by state liquor agents from tavern owners and others who sell liquor, now has $26,483.30 in it.

sionally, that would dovetail with your daily rounds? Would anybody like a lift to church, Sunday mornings?

At church or Sunday School, is there an unmet need that you might supply? Have you checked on the nursery school or kindergarten situation in your community, and got acquainted with the PTA? What about church bazaar, bake sales, fundraising drives and such? Learn to recognize and respond to such opportunities for fellowship, and your left-out feeling will evaporate.

M.H. Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Space Probe Assignments Given Airmen

NEW YORK (AP) — The Air Force was reported today to have been authorized to launch two space probes in addition to the three lunar shots originally assigned it last spring.

A Los Angeles dispatch to the New York Times said informed sources revealed this Monday.

One is likely to be an attempt to gather scientific data in the vicinity of the planet Venus, it was reported.

The Times story also said in part:

It was revealed also that the Air Force has tentatively scheduled Nov. 7 as the date for its next attempt to send a rocket around the moon.

This firing would be the last of three lunar shots originally assigned to the Air Force last spring.

Air Force officials declined comment on the disclosure that two more space missions have been authorized, or on the November schedule for the next lunar firing.

Informants said the two additional launchings were authorized about two months ago and will be carried out after the first of the year.

The nearest the earth and Venus come to one another as they circle in their respective orbits around the sun is 26 million miles. The nearest the moon and earth come together is about 221,500 miles.

OSU Fall Enrollment Now Totals 23,164

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Enrollment at Ohio State University is up for the autumn quarter. But it probably would have gone higher if it weren't for the $15-a-quarter tuition hike and tougher entrance requirements, said Dr. Donald Thompson, executive dean of special services. Unofficial figures released Tuesday show an enrollment of 23,164 this autumn, an increase of 549 over last year. The figure breaks down to 16,619 men and 6,545 women.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of house-keeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary to wax and scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: my husband and I are in our mid-twenties. We have two children under six years, which limits our social life considerably.

Since last year, when our second child was born, several of our friends have moved away and we seem unable to form new close friendships.

Recently I returned to my old job, where I work with several girls but, as they are all single, their interests differ from ours, and we find little in common.

Both my husband and I are devoted church members, but due to his work schedule he can attend only the Sunday morning service. There are no young married couples in our community, nor anyone available as baby-sitter. So it is necessary to take our children wherever we go.

We have become depressed over the fact that we seem to be left out of all social activities. Would you please advise how we can have at least some social life, and acquire new friends?

DEAR E.S.: There are seasons in married life and child rearing, that may be likened to the wintry months of nature's cycle. Then the sensible thing to do is to take the freeze in stride, invest yourself in the duties at hand, and wait the return of a sunnier season more favorable to general growth and social expansion.

It just happens that you are cut off from social consolation at this time—with neither old friends, nor family, nor other young-marrieds living close by. I think it will help your morale if you take this fact into account, and keep it in mind, when coping with your forlorn sense of being dropped by the world outside.

Instead of visualizing life as a bustling parade that is bypassing you, remember, rather, that the way to have friends is to be a friend, and begin precisely where you are—being appropriately outgoing and gracious to those in your path.

Who is your next door neighbor, to the right and left? And across the street? And down the block? Are there shopping errands you might do for one or another, occa-

Space Probe Assignments Given Airmen

NEW YORK (AP)—The Air Force was reported today to have been authorized to launch two space probes in addition to the three lunar shots originally assigned it last spring.

A Los Angeles dispatch to the New York Times said informed sources revealed this Monday.

One is likely to be an attempt to gather scientific data in the vicinity of the planet Venus, it was reported.

The Times story also said in part:

It was revealed also that the Air Force has tentatively scheduled Nov. 7 as the date for its next attempt to send a rocket around the moon.

This firing would be the last of three lunar shots originally assigned to the Air Force last spring.

Air Force officials declined comment on the disclosure that two

The nearest the earth and Venus come to one another as they circle in their respective orbits around the sun is 26 million miles. The nearest the moon and earth come together is about 221,500 miles.

OSU Fall Enrollment Now Totals 23,164

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Enrollment at Ohio State University is up for the autumn quarter. But it probably would have gone higher if it weren't for the $15-a-quarter tuition hike and tougher entrance requirements, said Dr. Donald Thompson, executive dean of special services. Unofficial figures released Tuesday show an enrollment of 23,164 this autumn, an increase of 549 over last year. The figure breaks down to 16,619 men and 6,545 women.

Careful Cornpicker Handling Can Increase Crop Returns

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent

Losses from corn picking vary greatly depending upon the condition of the crop and the operation and adjustment of the machine.

The 1958 corn crop will be hard to pick in many areas. Plentiful rainfall during most of the season didn't encourage deep rooting. Therefore, the crop may be down and tangled. A wet season as we have had also encourages stalk rots and diseases which weaken the stalk.

Gathering Unit: When picking corn which is either down or leaning badly till the picker forward so the gathering chains will run close to the ground.

Increasing the speed of the gathering chains will assist in picking down corn. On some pickers the speed of the gathering chains may be changed without changing the speed of the other parts of the picker.

The finger link on one gathering chain should be midway between two links on the other to be in "time". Improper timing will result in the gathering chains delivering groups of stalks to the snapping rolls. This reduces snapping efficiency and may result in clogging.

THE DISTANCE between the snapping rolls may be changed on all pickers to meet varying conditions. In general, when the corn stalks are either small or tough, set the snapping rolls close together. Large, dry or frozen stalks require a wider setting of the snapping rolls. With a close snapping roll setting, shellage will likely be high; too wide a setting will also cause shellage. The proper setting must be determined in the field, by trial and error.

Too high a speed of the snapping rolls may drive the stalks in the ground and cause stalk breakage. This will reduce snapping efficiency. It also will cause clogging and shelling of the corn. If stalks are pulled out by the roots, speed of the snapping rolls should be increased or rate of forward travel decreased.

Husking rolls adjustment consists of varying the tension on the rolls, adding pegs to the rolls to increase their aggressiveness. The tension should be increased when the husks are tight and the ears are small. When the husks are extremely tight, special lugs or pegs may be added to the rolls to increase their aggressiveness. Adjust the husking bed feed apron or the ear retarder so the corn feeds evenly over the rollers with the best possible husking and a small amount of shelling.

Do not expect the husking rolls to perform efficiently if considerable trash is coming into them from the snapping rolls. Trash can be reduced by proper snapping roll adjustment. Overloading the husking bed by driving too fast also will cause a poor job of husking.

Other valuable information on efficient and safe corn picker operation is contained in Extension Bulletin 323, available at the County Extension Agent's Office.

Rats Destroy Millions in $$ And Food, but Can Be Killed

The common rat is your enemy, says George Hamrick, county agent.

"The rat is a carrier of disease and death. A filthy creature, he contaminates everything he touches. He destroys millions of dollars worth of food and property every year."

"Where man lives, there dwells the rat. Although the rat has no redeeming qualities, man continues to harbor and feed him."

"As carriers of disease, rats have gnawed themselves an infamous niche in world history. The great plagues of the middle ages were spread by rats. Even today the common house rat is a constant threat as a carrier of disease."

"Among other diseases associated with rats are murine typhus fever, food poisoning, Weil's disease, rat bite fever and trichinosis."

"THE DAMAGES from rats are staggering. Rats cost this country more than $2 billion every year. They destroy more than 200 million bushels of grain a year."

"The food service industry has a definite interest in rat control. Food service operators have a special obligation to the public. A food service operation cannot be called safe if rats are on the premises. No matter how carefully food sanitation is practiced, the threat of rat-borne diseases makes an entire food service operation potentially dangerous."

"The rat is an evil, but not a necessary one. We can control rats. We can rid out communities of this filthy pest."

"We can control the rat by starving him out, by building him out, and by killing him. A good rat control does all three.

"Many helps are available to homeowners, and farmers on rat control. These helps may be secured by contacting the County Extension Office in the basement of the Post Office."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The right-to-work issue has really stirred things up in this year's Ohio election.

Even seasoned politicians are having their troubles figuring the outcome.

Right now, the Ohio capitol is solidly Republican from cellar to cupola. All officeholders from Gov. C. William O'Neill on down seek re-election, not for two-year terms as in the past, but for four-year terms. Another GOP stalwart John W. Bricker, is a candidate for a third U.S. Senate term.

This strange and fascinating campaign, in the opinion of competent observers, appears to be shaping up in this singular pattern:

Ohio voters probably will write into the state constitution a right-to-work section—a provision prohibiting union shop contracts which require union membership as a condition for holding a job.

But Republican Gov. O'Neill, who is stumping for the proposal, appears on the ragged edge of defeat after only one term in office.

His Democratic challenger, Michael V. DiSalle, who personally opposes the union shop prohibition, sees victory finally within his grasp despite a trouncing by O'Neill in 1956.

And Bricker, who waited until Tuesday night to take a public position on the constitutional proposal, appears a cinch to coast to another victory, this one over former Ohio Congressman-at-large Stephen M. Young, Democrat.

Young has opposed the amendment from the first.

Mangled hands, arms and legs tell the sad story of unsafe practices with the corn picker.

The corn picker is one of the most dangerous machines on the farm. The picker operator who uses a stick or cornstalk to unclog his machine while it is running is flirting with disaster.

Farmers should observe the following precautions in their picking operations this fall:

Always keep all guards and shields in place.

Always stop the tractor and shut off the power take-off before dismounting, oiling, adjusting and unclogging the picker.

Always be sure the tractor is out of gear when starting the engine.

Always ride on the seat or stand on the platform. Permit only one operator to ride. Never allow children to ride on the tractor or the picker.

Wear close-fitting clothing and never wear a glove with two thumbs when working around moving parts of farm machinery.

Be especially cautious when working long hours. Reactions slow down as the operator becomes tired.

Be sure a new operator is properly trained before he goes into the field alone.

Right-to-Work Controversy Has Politics Topsy-Turvy

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The right-to-work issue has really stirred things up in this year's Ohio election.

Even seasoned politicians are having their troubles figuring the outcome.

Right now, the Ohio capitol is solidly Republican from cellar to cupola. All officeholders from Gov. C. William O'Neill on down seek re-election, not for two-year terms as in the past, but for four-year terms. Another GOP stalwart John W. Bricker, is a candidate for a third U.S. Senate term.

This strange and fascinating campaign, in the opinion of competent observers, appears to be shaping up in this singular pattern:

Ohio voters probably will write into the state constitution a right-to-work section—a provision prohibiting union shop contracts which require union membership as a condition for holding a job.

But Republican Gov. O'Neill, who is stumping for the proposal, appears on the ragged edge of defeat after only one term in office.

His Democratic challenger, Michael V. DiSalle, who personally opposes the union shop prohibition, sees victory finally within his grasp despite a trouncing by O'Neill in 1956.

And Bricker, who waited until Tuesday night to take a public position on the constitutional proposal, appears a cinch to coast to another victory, this one over former Ohio Congressman-at-large Stephen M. Young, Democrat.

Young has opposed the amendment from the first.

Republicans who control the Ohio delegation in the U.S. House 17-6 and both houses of the Ohio Legislature are plainly scared—but hoping for the best.

Why, after rolling up huge majorities in 1956, are they running scared this year? Three reasons:

1. They fear that a Democratic trend, noted nationally, has seeped into Ohio. They recall that for the first time in a generation Democrats outvoted Republicans in the May primaries—by 100,000 votes.

2. They expect organized labor's desperate campaign to stave off the right-to-work proposal will lure many union members to the polls. Republicans figure the unionists aren't going to walk out of the polling places without marking their ballots for candidates as well as issues. Among union members, the GOP further figures, there are more Democrats than Republicans.

3. Voter registration, in the populous counties which require it, is at a record high for a non-presidential election year. Election officials say the right-to-work issue is responsible. True, they say, many Ohioans registered so they would be able to vote for it, but the big push for registrations was among the groups fighting it.

O'Neill was the golden boy of Ohio politics when he was elected governor two years ago at the age of 40. He already had 12 years in the Legislature and six years as attorney general under his belt.

Beset by a series of public relations bobbles on relatively minor issues, O'Neill suffered a heart attack early this year. He recovered quickly, but some dissatisfaction with his administration within his own party was indicated in the May primary when Charles P. Taft racked up 36 per cent of the Republican vote without campaigning.

Unquestionably, O'Neill has regained some of his political losses in the months since that low ebb. DiSalle, once known nationally as President Truman's roly-poly, jovial director of price stabilization, has shed most of his excess weight. The joking is under wraps and his mustache is gone, too.

Already this year, he has visited each of Ohio's 88 counties at least twice, some of them many times. The 50-year-old Democrat seems to prefer a small group or a microphone to a large audience. O'Neill seems to love big crowds and his campaign aides promote them for him. He has been known to have his picture taken individually with 4,000 to 5,000 persons in a single day at a big political rally. This is one of his favorite campaign gimmicks. Each person photographed with the governor receives copies a few weeks later.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Jesse Couch learned how to apply a tourniquet by watching television programs and the result may be a Boy Scout life-saving medal. Dr. M. C. Madrey says the 10-year-old boy's action in applying a tourniquet on his mother's arm after an automobile accident saved her life. The doctor is signing a certificate to that effect.

"Where man lives, there dwells the rat. Although the rat has no redeeming qualities, man continues to harbor and feed him.

"As carriers of disease, rats have gnawed themselves an infamous niche in world history. The great plagues of the middle ages were spread by rats. Even today the common house rat is a constant threat as a carrier of disease.

"Among other diseases associated with rats are murine typhus fever, food poisoning, Weil's disease, rat bite fever and trichinosis.

"THE DAMAGES from rats are staggering. Rats cost this country more than $2 billion every year. They destroy more than 200 million bushels of grain a year.

"The food service industry has a definite interest in rat control. Food service operators have a special obligation to the public. A food service operation cannot be called safe if rats are on the premises. No matter how carefully food sanitation is practiced, the threat of rat-borne diseases makes an entire food service operation potentially dangerous.

"The rat is an evil, but not a necessary one. We can control rats. We can rid our communities of this filthy pest.

"We can control the rat by

Right-to-Work Controversy Has Politics Topsy-Turvy

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The right-to-work issue has really stirred things up in this year's Ohio election.

Even seasoned politicians are having their troubles figuring the outcome.

Right now, the Ohio capitol is solidly Republican from cellar to cupola. All officeholders from Gov. C. William O'Neill on down seek re-election, not for two-year terms as in the past, but for four-year terms. Another GOP stalwart John W. Bricker, is a candidate for a third U.S. Senate term.

This strange and fascinating campaign, in the opinion of competent observers, appears to be shaping up in this singular pattern:

Ohio voters probably will write into the state constitution a right-to-work section—a provision prohibiting union shop contracts which require union membership as a condition for holding a job.

But Republican Gov. O'Neill, who is stumping for the proposal, appears on the ragged edge of defeat after only one term in office.

His Democratic challenger, Michael V. DiSalle, who personally opposes the union shop prohibition, sees victory finally within his grasp despite a trouncing by O'Neill in 1956.

And Bricker, who waited until Tuesday night to take a public position on the constitutional proposal, appears a cinch to coast to another victory, this one over former Ohio Congressman-at-large Stephen M. Young, Democrat.

Young has opposed the amendment from the first.

Republicans who control the Ohio delegation in the U.S. House 17-6 and both houses of the Ohio Legislature are plainly scared—but hoping for the best.

Why, after rolling up huge majorities in 1956, are they running scared this year? Three reasons:

1. They fear that a Democratic trend, noted nationally, has seeped into Ohio. They recall that for the first time in a generation Democrats outvoted Republicans in the May primaries—by 100,000 votes.

2. They expect organized labor's desperate campaign to stave off the right-to-work proposal will lure many union members to the polls. Republicans figure the unionists aren't going to walk out of the polling places without marking their ballots for candidates as well as issues. Among union members, the GOP further figures, there are more Democrats than Republicans.

3. Voter registration, in the populous counties which require it, is at a record high for a non-presidential election year. Election officials say the right-to-work issue is responsible. True, they say, many Ohioans registered so they would be able to vote for it, but the big push for registrations was among the groups fighting it.

O'Neill was the golden boy of Ohio politics when he was elected governor two years ago at the age of 40. He already had 12 years in the Legislature and six years as attorney general under his belt.

Beset by a series of public relations bobbles on relatively minor issues, O'Neill suffered a heart attack early this year. He recovered quickly, but some dissatisfaction with his administration within his own party was indicated in the May primary when Charles P. Taft racked up 36 per cent of the Republican vote without campaigning.

Unquestionably, O'Neill has regained some of his political losses in the months since that low ebb. DiSalle, once known nationally as President Truman's roly-poly, jovial director of price stabilization, has shed most of his excess weight. The joking is under wraps and his mustache is gone, too.

Already this year, he has visited each of Ohio's 88 counties at least twice, some of them many times. The 50-year-old Democrat seems

Army Given Easy Nod; Iowa Pegged Winner Over Wisconsin Outfit

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Last week's predictions (21 wrong ones in 55 stabs) can bring a chesty fore-caster back to earth faster than a burned-out moon rocket.

Using a new motor and a different type fuel, here are this week's winners:

Army over Virginia: The Cadets now rate as the country's best.

Auburn over Georgia Tech: The Plainsmen, who haven't yielded a touchdown on the ground since 1956, will have a busy afternoon but their defense should pull them through.

Iowa over Wisconsin: Randy Duncan's passing to be the decisive factor in this battle of Big Ten title claimants.

Navy over Tulane: It is the Oyster Bowl game at Norfolk, Va., with the Southerners finding Navy's shell too tough to crack.

Texas over Arkansas: The Razorbacks have scored only three times in four games and Texas did beat Oklahoma.

Mississippi over Hardin Simmons: This could be more rugged than it sounds.

Notre Dame over Duke: Nick Pietrosante and Wray Carlton to share the individual honors.

Oregon over Washington State: Another game in which the defense will tell.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY

George Washington over Richmond.

SATURDAY

EAST: Harvard over Columbia, Holy Cross over Dartmouth, Lafayette over Temple, Penn State over Boston University, Delaware over New Hampshire, Brown over Penn, Pittsburgh over West Virginia, Princeton over Colgate, Rutgers over Bucknell, Syracuse over Nebraska, Wake Forest over Villanova, Yale over Cornell.

MIDWEST: Ohio State over Indiana, Michigan State over Purdue, Colorado over Iowa State, Kansas State over Missouri, Boston College over Marquette, Illinois over Minnesota, Tulsa over Drake, Michigan over Northwestern.

SOUTHWEST: Oklahoma over Kansas, Houston over Oklahoma State, Texas Christian over Texas A&M, Baylor over Texas Tech, Southern Methodist over Rice.

SOUTH: Louisiana State over Kentucky, Davidson over Carson Newman, Florida State over Virginia Tech, Florida over Vanderbilt, Furman over Wofford, Mississippi State over Arkansas State, North Carolina over Maryland, Virginia Military over Tampa, Tennessee over Alabama, William & Mary over North Carolina State.

FAR WEST: Arizona State over San Jose State, Brigham Young over North Texas State, Wyoming over Colorado State University, Oregon State over Idaho, Utah State over Montana, New Mexico over Arizona, College of Pacific over Cincinnati, California over Southern California, Air Force over Stanford, Denver over Utah, Washington over UCLA.

New Pact Slated For Stengel Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Announcement that Casey Stengel has been signed to a new pact as manager is expected to be made today by the World Champion New York Yankees.

The club has called a mammoth press conference for the occasion. Last week there was a report that Stengel might quit, but the 68-year-old skipper termed it "rubbish."

Heavyweight Bout Scheduling Fails

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations for a heavyweight title bout at Madison Square Garden this winter have fallen through.

Julius Helfand, chairman of the State Athletic Commission who has been helping in the negotiations, said Cus D'Amato, manager of champion Floyd Patterson, had turned down two suitable December dates offered at a "reasonable rental."

Many College Coaches Face Problem of Injured Players

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winning football games can be tough enough without losing players who are as valuable as life insurance.

This is the problem facing quite a few coaches today as they begin prepping for Saturday's games.

Take Notre Dame's Terry Brennan. The Irish coach must recoup his lads from their 14-2 loss to Army last Saturday, and at the same time prepare for a dangerous Duke team. To add to this, he will probably be without the services of Norm Odyniec, converted from fullback to halfback for the Army game because of his running prowess.

Odyniec is out with a bruised shoulder. Brennan must rely on Jim Crotty, whose place Odyniec took against Army, in being completely mended from a leg and thigh injury.

The Irish, winners of two games before meeting Army, have not been an offensive powerhouse as in the past. They have scored just 34 points, allowing only 21. Brennan had his strongest, though not his fastest, backfield of the season against Army.

Michigan's Bennie Oosterbaan has lost fullback John Herrstein for the season, because of injuries suffered in the Wolves' 20-14 loss to Navy.

That was the Wolverines' first loss after a 20-19 victory over California and a 12-12 tie against Michigan State. The big senior fullback figured heavily in both and his replacement, Tony Rio, will have to carry the burden, against predominantly Big 10 teams from now on.

Bill Meek's Southern Methodist team won its first of the year against Missouri 32-19 Saturday, and without ace quarterback and passer, Don Meredith. Meredith is on crutches after being injured in the 14-6 loss to Notre Dame Oct. 4.

Whether he will be available for Saturday's Rice game is questionable. Meek also is hoping to have end Ray Sherer, injured when SMU lost to Ohio State 23-20, in an effort to keep his offense in high gear.

Minnesota, winless in three games by a total of 13 points, lost halfback Arlie Bomstad, leading ground-gainer in Saturday's 7-3 loss to Northwestern, and fullback Roger Hagburg. The Gophers play winless (0-3) Illinois Saturday.

Washington State plays defense-minded Oregon Saturday minus quarterback Bobby Newman, who has helped his team account for 90 points in four games, for a 2-2 record. Newman was injured against Idaho Saturday and is touted as WSC's offense.

The Ivy League has its share of trouble too, but with a ray of sunshine. Princeton lost tailback Dan Sachs for at least three weeks when he hurt his back against Penn. His replacement, John L. Sullivan proved more than adequate in leading the Tigers to a 20-14 win, their second straight after a 28-0 loss to Rutgers.

Brown probably will play Penn this Saturday without halfback Bob Carlin, the Bruins' most consistent performer.

Elsewhere, Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson kept only fullback Prentice Gautt in the first team backfield after the 15-14 upset loss to Texas. He also moved three men into the first team line for the Kansas game Saturday. Boston College (1-2) will have to do without quarterback Don Allard against Marquette, and Coach Mike Holovac will have to dig deep as two other first line quarterbacks also are unavailable because of injuries.

Gene Conley Denies Pitching Arm Dies

BOSTON (AP)—Gene Conley, who denies his basketball venture is due to a dead pitching arm, is financing his own bid to make the Boston Celtics' squad.

The 6-8 Milwaukee Braves right-hander scored seven points for Boston Tuesday night during a 15-minute stint in a National Basketball Assn. exhibition game with Cincinnati at Burlington, Vt. Boston won 101-95.

"I will be back in baseball next spring," Conley said.

Seeks Third Title

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—The University of North Carolina cross-country team is seeking its third straight Atlantic Coast Conference championship this season under Coach Dale Ranson. Six lettermen on hand are Dave Scurlock, Wayne Bishop, Harris Coffin, Bill Henderson, Howard Kahn and Cowles Lipfert. The title meet is set for No. 17 with the Tar Heels as the host.

Browns Rated As Favorites Over Steelers

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns are heavy favorites to defeat the Pittsburgh Steelers in Sunday's clash at Municipal Stadium.

Odds makers, impressed by the Browns' 45-12 drubbing of Pittsburgh two weeks ago, have made Cleveland 9-4-point favorites.

But the Steelers, fresh from a 24-3 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles, may be an improved team.

Referring to the game with Cleveland, Buddy Parker, Pittsburgh coach, commented: "The players know what they did wrong in that one."

"Our improvement last Sunday over what we showed against Cleveland is very encouraging."

"And any time you can hold a club like the Eagles your defense must be pretty fair. We'll be changing our defensive setup some, too. We think we'll be able to contain Jim Brown better."

The Browns' big fullback scored three touchdowns against the Steelers. He handled the ball 17 times and gained a total of 129 yards.

Another important factor in the Steelers' favor is acquisition of veteran quarterback Bobby Layne from the Detroit Lions.

Layne sparked in the Steelers' conquest of the Eagles. Parker commented: "Layne was plenty smart in moving the offense. In our other games we weren't able to capitalize on our breaks. Bobby was able to take advantage of the Eagles' errors."

Warren Spahn wasn't the first southpaw who stopped Hank Bauer. In the final game of the 1955 World Series, Dodger Johnny Podres stopped Bauer. Hank then hit safely in 17 straight World Series games until stopped by Spahn.

Jimmy Brown Sets Pro Race

Cleveland Back Ahead Of His 1957 Totals

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Husky Jimmy Brown of Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns is leading the National Football League in ground gaining with more than half as much yardage in three games than he pounded out in last year's entire 12 games schedule.

Now in his second year of pro football, Brown gained 942 yards in 1957. In the first three games of 1958, he has accounted for 482 yards for the unbeaten Browns.

Cleveland's "bread and butter" guy has carried the ball 75 times, averaging 6.4 yards per effort and 160 yards a game. He's taken dead aim on Steven Van Buren's seasonal yards gained rushing title of 1,146, set by the former Philadelphia Eagles' star in 1949.

Tom Wilson of Los Angeles ranks second in the art of carrying the ball with 280 yards, followed by newcomer Bobby Mitchell, also of Cleveland, with 262, and Jon Arnett, Los Angeles, 253.

Little Eddie Lebaron, the lightest man in the league, has the heaviest passing average. The mighty mite, as he is known in the pro football world, sports a per pass average of 9.6 a throw. In all, Lebaron has tossed 44, completed 25 for 426 yards and two touchdowns. His percentage of completion is 56.8.

Mack Reynolds, the Chicago Cardinals' rookie quarterback, is second with a 9.5 average, 37 for 63, 601 yards gained, 5 TDs and a 58.7 completion percentage. Third is Billy Wade of Los Angeles with these figures: average 8.55, 42 for 74, 633 yards, 4 TDs, 56.8 completion percentage.

In other departments these are the early season leaders: Pass receiving — Ray Berry, Baltimore, 19 caught for 266 yards and 3 TDs. R. C. Owens is second with 16 for 187.

Scoring — Brown of the Browns 48 points on — TDs. John Crow of the Cards is second, 5 TDs, 30 points.

Punting — Don Chandler, New York Giants, averaging 46.2 yards to 45.7 for Sam Baker of Washington.

Punt returns — Billy Wells, Philadelphia, 5 for 91 yards, averaging 18.2. John Morris of the Chicago Bears is second, 4 for 48 yards and a 12 yard average.

Kickoff returns — Len Lyles of Baltimore, 3 for 147 yards and a 39 yard average. Green Bay's Al Carmichael is second, 3 for 115, a 38.3 average.

Little Known Briton Rated As Patterson's Next foe

LONDON (AP)—It appeared today that the strange, circutons search to find a man to fight Floyd Patterson has ended.

The man is Henry Cooper, 24-year-old blond Cockney who in addition to fighting, plasters walls for a living.

Cooper, a little known heavy-weight, got a debatable decision Tuesday night after 10 rounds against Zora Folley, an American who ranks No. 2 in line for Patterson's world title.

Cooper boxes only fairly and he cuts easily. He lost four of his last six fights, has fought professionally only 30 times and has spent much time recently as a chopping block-sparring mate for main-bouters.

His main claim to fame hitherto was a one-round KO over newly crowned British heavyweight champ Brain London when both were just out of the novice class.

But Referee Tommy Little saw Cooper as the winner against the shocked Folley. Cooper's past now is forgiven.

If England and promoter Harry Levene have anything to do with it, Cooper's going in against Patterson for the world title in an open air bout next summer—probably June.

Levene talked by transatlantic phone to his old friend and collaborator Cus D'Amato, who manages Patterson, shortly after the fight.

"I say now Cooper and Floyd Patterson will meet in London next summer for the world heavy-weight championship," said Levene after talking to D'Amato.

D'Amato made himself unavailable in New York, but only Tuesday turned down two Madison Square Garden dates—Dec. 5 and Dec. 12 — for a Patterson-Nino Valdes title fight.

The Associated Press saw the Folley-Cooper fight as a draw or going to Folley by a slight margin. Several London boxing writers called it Folley's fight.

NEW YORK (AP)—Last week's predictions (21 wrong ones in 55 stabs) can bring a chesty forecaster back to earth faster than a burned-out moon rocket.

Using a new motor and a different type fuel, here are this week's winners:

Army over Virginia: The Cadets now rate as the country's best.

Auburn over Georgia Tech: The Plainsmen, who haven't yielded a touchdown on the ground since 1956, will have a busy afternoon but their defense should pull them through.

Iowa over Wisconsin: Randy Duncan's passing to be the decisive factor in this battle of Big Ten title claimants.

Navy over Tulane: It is the Oyster Bowl game at Norfolk, Va., with the Southerners finding Navy's shell too tough to crack.

Texas over Arkansas: The Razorbacks have scored only three times in four games and Texas did beat Oklahoma.

Mississippi over Hardin Simmons: This could be more rugged than it sounds.

Notre Dame over Duke: Nick Pietrosante and Wray Carleton to share the individual honors.

Oregon over Washington State: Another game in which the defense will tell.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:
FRIDAY
George Washington over Richmond.

SATURDAY
EAST: Harvard over Columbia, Holy Cross over Dartmouth, Lafayette over Temple, Penn State over Boston University, Delaware over New Hampshire, Brown over Penn, Pittsburgh over West Virginia, Princeton over Colgate, Rutgers over Bucknell, Syracuse over Nebraska, Wake Forest over Villanova, Yale over Cornell.

MIDWEST: Ohio State over Indiana, Michigan State over Purdue, Colorado over Iowa State, Kansas State over Missouri, Boston College over Marquette, Illinois over Minnesota, Tulsa over Drake, Michigan over Northwestern.

SOUTHWEST: Oklahoma over Kansas, Houston over Oklahoma State, Texas Christian over Texas A&M, Baylor over Texas Tech, Southern Methodist over Rice.

SOUTH: Louisiana State over Kentucky, Davidson over Carson Newman, Florida State over Virginia Tech, Florida over Vanderbilt, Furman over Wofford, Mississippi State over Arkansas State, North Carolina over Maryland, Virginia Military over Tampa, Tennessee over Alabama, William & Mary over North Carolina State.

FAR WEST: Arizona State over San Jose State, Brigham Young over North Texas State, Wyoming over Colorado State University, Oregon State over Idaho, Utah State over Montana, New Mexico over Arizona, College of Pacific over Cincinnati, California over Southern California, Air Force over Stanford, Denver over Utah, Washington over UCLA.

NEW PACT SLATED
For Stengel Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Announcement that Casey Stengel has been signed to a new pact as manager is expected to be made today by the World Champion New York Yankees.

The club has called a mammoth press conference for the occasion. Last week there was a report that Stengel might quit, but the 68-year-old skipper termed it "rubbish."

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations for a heavyweight title bout at Madison Square Garden this winter have fallen through.

Many College Coaches Face Problem of Injured Players

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winning football games can be tough enough without losing players who are as valuable as life insurance.

This is the problem facing quite a few coaches today as they begin prepping for Saturday's games.

Take Notre Dame's Terry Brennan. The Irish coach must recoup his lads from their 14-2 loss to Army last Saturday, and at the same time prepare for a dangerous Duke team. To add to this, he will probably be without the services of Norm Odyniec, converted from fullback to halfback for the Army game because of his running prowess.

Odyniec is out with a bruised shoulder. Brennan must rely on Jim Crotty, whose place Odyniec took against Army, in being completely mended from a leg and thigh injury.

The Irish, winners of two games before meeting Army, have not been an offensive powerhouse as in the past. They have scored just 34 points, allowing only 21. Brennan has his work cut out for him.

Minnesota, winless in three games by a total of 13 points, lost halfback Arlie Bomstad, leading ground-gainer in Saturday's 7-3 loss to Northwestern, and fullback Roger Hagburg. The Gophers play winless (0-3) Illinois Saturday.

Washington State plays defense-minded Oregon Saturday minus quarterback Bobby Newman, who has helped his team account for 90 points in four games, for a 2-2 record. Newman was injured against Idaho Saturday and is touted as WSC's offense.

The Ivy League has its share of trouble too, but with a ray of sunshine. Princeton lost tailback Dan Sachs for at least three weeks when he hurt his back against Penn. His replacement, John L. Sullivan, proved more than adequate in leading the Tigers to a 20-14 win, their second straight after a 28-0 loss to Rutgers.

Brown probably will play Penn this Saturday without halfback Bob Carlin, the Bruins' most consistent performer.

Elsewhere, Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson kept only fullback Prentice Gault in the first team backfield after the 15-14 upset loss to Texas. He also moved three men into the first team line for the Kansas game Saturday. Boston College (1-2) will have to do without quarterback Don Allard against Marquette, and Coach Mike Holovak will have to dig deep as two other first line quarterbacks also are unavailable because of injuries.

Gene Conley Denies Pitching Arm Dies

BOSTON (AP)—Gene Conley, who denies his basketball venture is due to a dead pitching arm, is financing his own bid to make the Boston Celtics' squad.

The 6-8 Milwaukee Braves right-hander scored seven points for Boston Tuesday night during a 15-minute stint in a National Basketball Assn. exhibition game with Cincinnati at Burlington, Vt. Boston won 101-95.

"I will be back in baseball next spring," Conley said.

He also moved three men into the first team line for the Kansas game Saturday. Boston College (1-2) will have to do without quarterback Don Allard against Marquette, and Coach Mike Holovak will have to dig deep as two other first line quarterbacks also are unavailable because of injuries.

That was too tight for me," said Dupas. "I was weak. I fight best at 143 or so."

Since his loss to Brown, Dupas has beaten Johnny Gorman and Ray Lancaster. His record is 72-9-6. Turner, 27, has a 57-16-2 record.

Seeks Third Title

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—The University of North Carolina cross-country team is seeking its third straight Atlantic Coast Conference championship this season under Coach Dale Ranson. Six lettermen on hand are Dave Scurlock, Wayne Bishop, Harris Coffin, Bill Henderson, Howard Kahn and Cowles Lipfert. The title meet is set for Nov. 17 with the Tar Heels as the host.

nan had his strongest, though not his fastest, backfield of the season against Army.

Michigan's Bennie Oosterbaan has lost fullback John HERNSTEIN for the season, because of injuries suffered in the Wolves' 20-14 loss to Navy.

That was the Wolverines' first loss after a 20-19 victory over California and a 12-12 tie against Michigan State. The big senior fullback figured heavily in both and his replacement, Tony Rio, will have to carry the burden, against predominantly Big 10 teams from now on.

Bill Meek's Southern Methodist team won its first of the year against Missouri 32-19 Saturday, and without ace quarterback and passer, Don Meredith. Meredith is on crutches after being injured in the 14-6 loss to Notre Dame Oct. 4.

Whether he will be available for Saturday's Rice game is questionable. Meek also is hoping to have end Ray Sherer, injured when SMU lost to Ohio State 23-20, in an effort to keep his offense in high gear.

Minnesota, winless in three games by a total of 13 points, lost halfback Arlie Bomstad, leading ground-gainer in Saturday's 7-3 loss to Northwestern, and fullback Roger Hagburg. The Gophers play winless (0-3) Illinois Saturday.

The Circleville Herald, Wed., October 15, 1958 9

Circleville, Ohio

FIRST, THIS TIME? - - - By Alan Maver

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Husky Jimmy Brown of Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns is leading the National Football League in ground gaining with more than half as much yardage in three games than he pounded out in last year's entire 12 games schedule.

Now in his second year of pro football, Brown gained 942 yards in 1957. In the first three games of 1958, he has accounted for 482 yards for the unbeaten Browns.

Cleveland's "bread and butter" guy has carried the ball 75 times, averaging 6.4 yards per effort and 160 yards a game. He's taken dead aim on Steven Van Buren's seasonal yards gained rushing title of 1,146, set by the former Philadelphia Eagles' star in 1949.

Tom Wilson of Los Angeles ranks second in the art of carrying the ball with 280 yards, followed by newcomer Bobby Mitchell, also of Cleveland, with 262, and John Arnett, Los Angeles, 253.

Little Eddie LeBaron, the lightest man in the league, has the heaviest passing average. The mighty mite, as he is known in the pro football world, sports a per pass average of 9.6 a throw. In all, LeBaron has tossed 44, completed 25 for 426 yards and two touchdowns. His percentage of completion is 56.8.

Mack Reynolds, the Chicago Cardinals' rookie quarterback, is second with a 9.5 average, 37 for 63, 601 yards gained, 5 TDs and a 58.7 completion percentage.

Third is Billy Wade of Los Angeles with these figures: average 8.55, 42 for 74, 633 yards, 4 TDs, 56.8 completion percentage.

In other departments these are the early season leaders:

Pass receiving — Ray Berry, Baltimore, 19 caught for 266 yards and 3 TDs. R. C. Owens is second with 16 for 187.

Scoring — Brown of the Browns 48 points on — Tds. John Crow of the Cards is second, 5 TDs, 30 points.

Punting — Don Chandler, New York Giants, averaging 46.2 yards to 45.7 for Sam Baker of Washington.

Punt returns — Billy Wells, Philadelphia, 5 for 91 yards, averaging 18.2. John Morris of the Chicago Bears is second, 4 for 48 yards and a 12 yard average.

Kickoff returns — Len Lyles of Baltimore, 3 for 147 yards and a 39 yard average. Green Bay's Al Carmichael is second, 3 for 115, a 38.3 average.

Cornell's 1956 and 1957 football teams scored exactly 100 points each.

NEW YORK (AP)—Ben Hogan and Sam Snead are next to get a shot at trying to stem the tide of international sports trophies flowing to other lands.

These two old pros have been named as Uncle Sam's representatives in the sixth annual Canada Cup golf matches at the Club De Golf in Mexico City Nov. 20-23.

Torakichi Nakamura and Koichi Ono of Japan won both the team and individual championships last year in Tokyo. Nakamura was the individual winner, beating out Snead and Jimmy Demaret plus the best golfers of 28 other countries.

Referring to the game with Cleveland, Buddy Parker, Pittsburgh coach, commented:

"The players know what they did wrong in that one. Our improvement last Sunday over what we showed against Cleveland is very encouraging."

"And any time you can hold a club like the Eagles your defense must be pretty fair. We'll be changing our defensive setup some, too. We think we'll be able to contain Jim Brown better."

The Browns' big fullback scored three touchdowns against the Steelers. He handled the ball 17 times and gained a total of 129 yards.

Another important factor in the Steelers' favor is acquisition of veteran quarterback Bobby Layne from the Detroit Lions.

Layne sparked in the Steelers' conquest of the Eagles. Parker commented:

"Layne was plenty smart in moving the offense. In our other games we weren't able to capitalize on our breaks. Bobby was able to take advantage of the Eagles' errors."

Warren Spahn wasn't the first southpaw who stopped Hank Bauer. In the final game of the 1955 World Series, Dodger Johnny Podres stopped Bauer. Hank then hit safely in 17 straight World Series games until stopped by Spahn.

"These gifts aid in presenting realistic rather than artificial experiences to those who are learning," stated City school superintendent George Hartman.

Hartman continued stating, "Most items are supplied because it is realized that schools are operating on limited budgets and these items are necessary, although many schools would not be able to purchase them."

This aids pupils in the proper rebuilding of such products in the automotive class. One manufacturer sent filmstrips and records for permanent use.

Continental Motors shipped an engine when a request was sent for a manual. Many such gifts have been sent without the knowledge of school officials.

"These gifts aid in presenting realistic rather than artificial experiences to those who are learning," stated City school superintendent George Hartman.

Hartman continued stating, "Most items are supplied because it is realized that schools are operating on limited budgets and these items are necessary, although many schools would not be able to purchase them."
